DRAGONIAN

Volume VII

Pittsboro High School . Pittsboro, North Carolina

Debut

Any school is full of many varied beginnings. To the first grader, it is the beginning of twelve wonderful years of learning and making friends. To the ninthgrader, it is the beginning of four years that will be the richest and the fullest years of his life. To the Yearbook Staff of Pittsboro High School, it is the beginning of many long hours of hard work in compiling a yearbook that will preserve the memories just as vividly twenty years from now as it does today—the day you get your first look at its newly printed pages. Thus, to you, the green freshman; you, the sophisticated sophomore; you, the hard-working junior; you, the confident senior; to everyone at Pittsboro School, we proudly present Debut, the seventh edition of the Dragonian.

This is a yearbook filled with many beginnings; the beginning of SCHOOL LIFE, of a new year with the ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY, of old and new ACTIVITIES, of treasured HONORS, of varied ATHLETICS, of a year of HIGH SCHOOL that will long be remembered, of an ELEMENTARY year that will pass ever too slowly, and of the best year yet for our sponsors and their ADVERTISEMENTS. This is a yearbook filled with moments of laughter, excitement, friendship, triumph, and study. Although many of these moments appear insignificant, these are the things that make a year memorable. Whether you are cheering your team to victory or cramming for an exam, we hope that these will become treasured moments—for this is the end of the beginning.

To the woman behind the scenes whose tireless efforts have greatly contributed to the betterment of the school, we humbly give our thanks. Her attention has been focused primarily on the home economics program; however, every student has benefited from her endeavors. Directing the Miss. P.H.S. contest, sponsoring the annual fashion show, and keeping the first aid room immaculate are just a few of the activities she does that often go by unnoticed. For the unselfish attitude exhibited in these pursuits, the year-book staff dedicates this seventh edition of the Dragonian to Mrs. Sallie Horton.

Mrs. Horton gives Barbara's dress a close inspection while Emily watches.

Patsy gets helpful advice on how to walk, turn, and bow from Mrs. Horton during rehearsals for the Miss P.H.S. contest.

They instilled in us high ideals

MR. H. G. JOHNSTON

In recognition of his many years of teaching vocational agriculture at Pittsboro High School, the 1966 annual staff pays honorable tribute to Mr. H. G. Johnston. His retirement in 1965 shocked and saddened the entire school. Throughout his twenty-eight years of teaching here, he and his "boys" have been the recipients of many county, district, state, and national honors. His goal has been to develop every skill his "boys" could muster. His honors in and contributions to his church and community cannot be enumerated. To us he is a man who loves life, and who likes to make all living things keep growing and improving. His landscaping of the school grounds and his planting of the rose garden stand as a living memorial to him for us and for future generations.

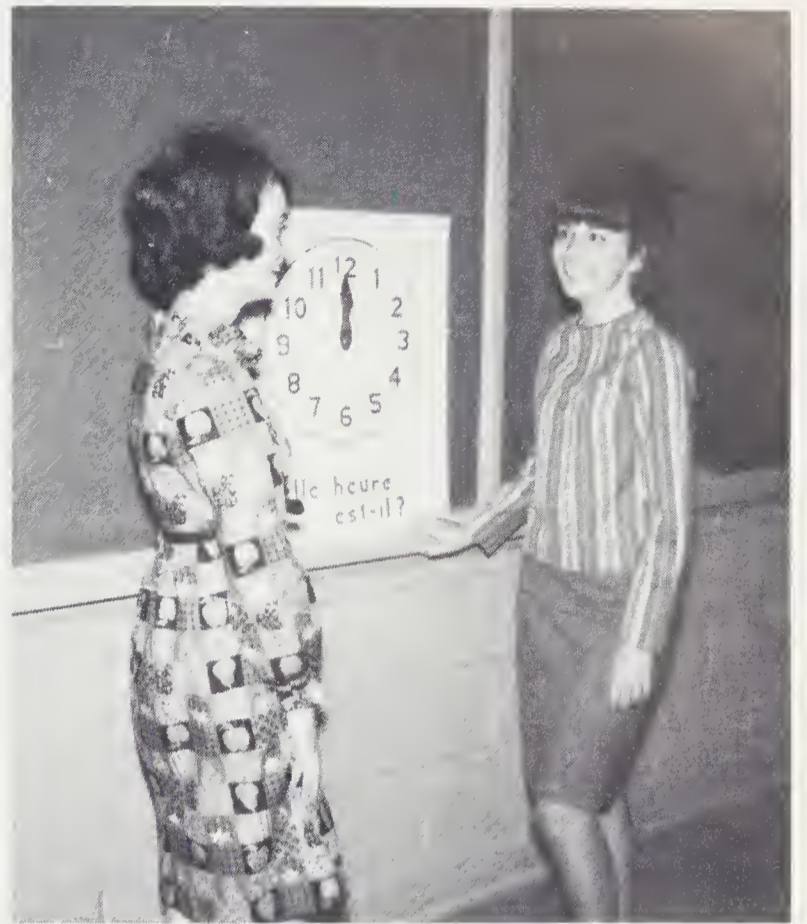

MRS. J. S. WATERS

The annual staff, in behalf of our school, gratefully reserves this space to express its heartfelt appreciation to Mrs. J. S. Waters. Her retirement from our midst was a sad announcement at our 1965 commencement. Shortly after the passing of her husband, our former Chatham County Superintendent of Schools, she moved to Texas to be near their daughter. This is the first year that we can remember when she was not here to greet a section of first-graders on opening day. Children whom she taught considered it a coveted honor to "be in Mrs. Waters' room." Truly she is a most professional and dedicated teacher whose class room inspired her students and charmed her visitors.

Debut (da bu): beginning, start, first appearance

Beginnings, debuts, come to us every day, though we often fail to grasp their importance. Here are three beginnings—spiritual development, an academic debut, the first school day.

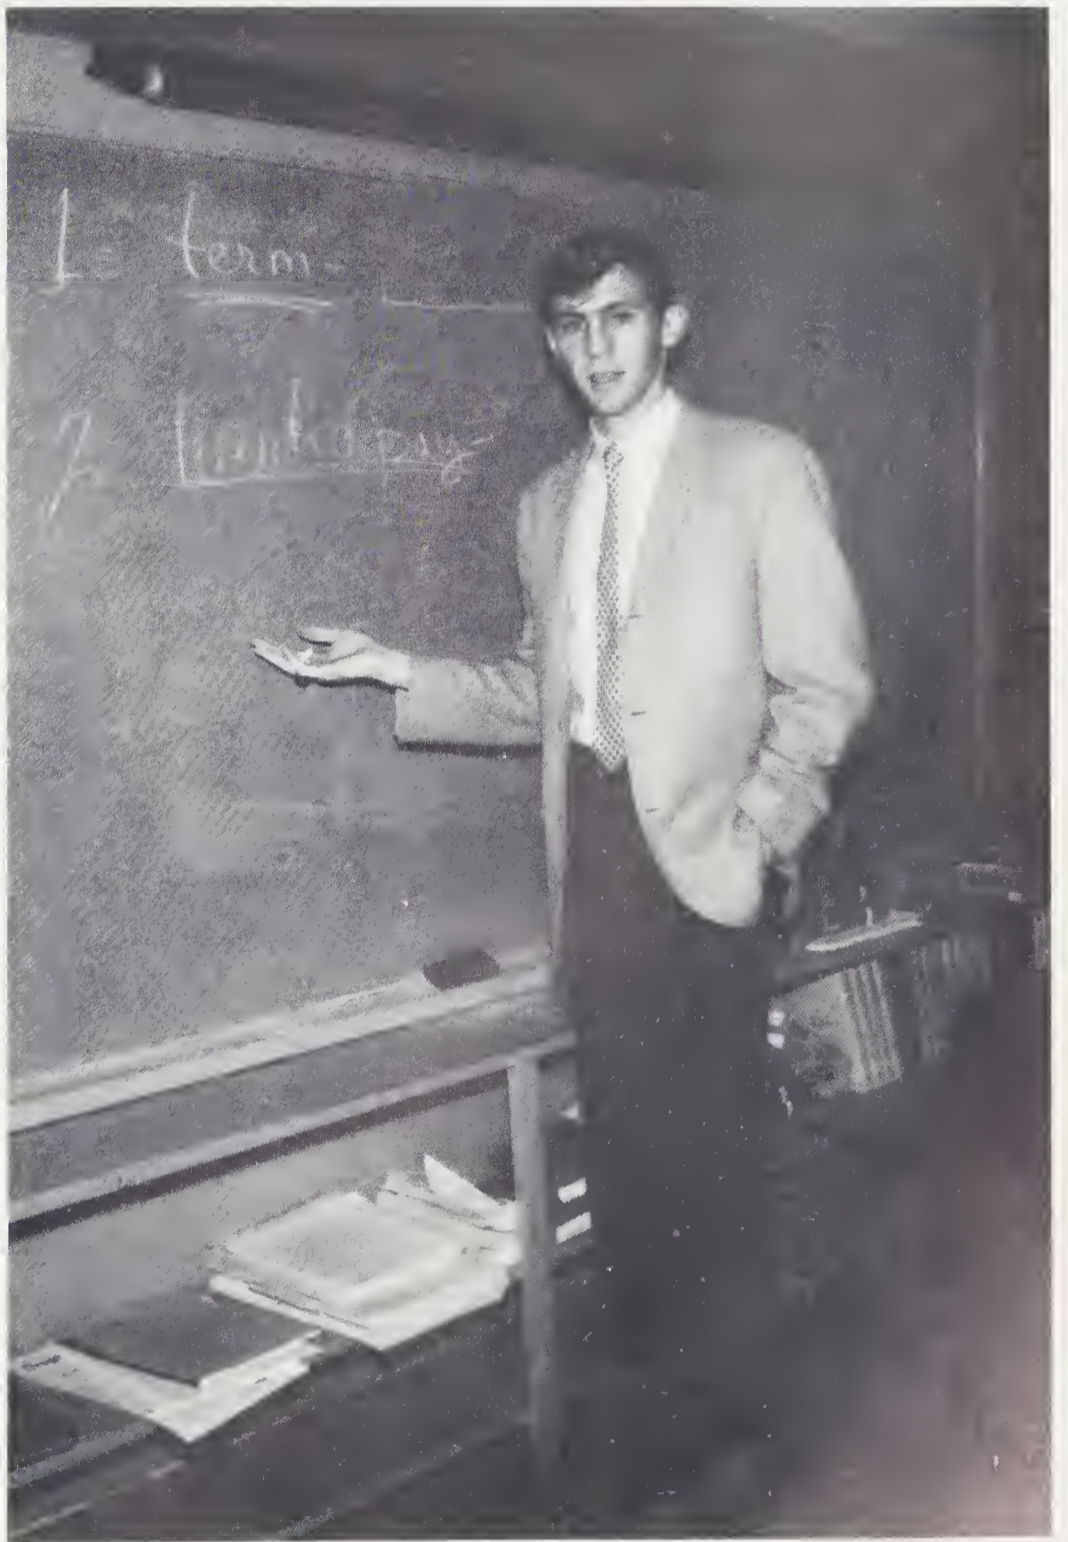

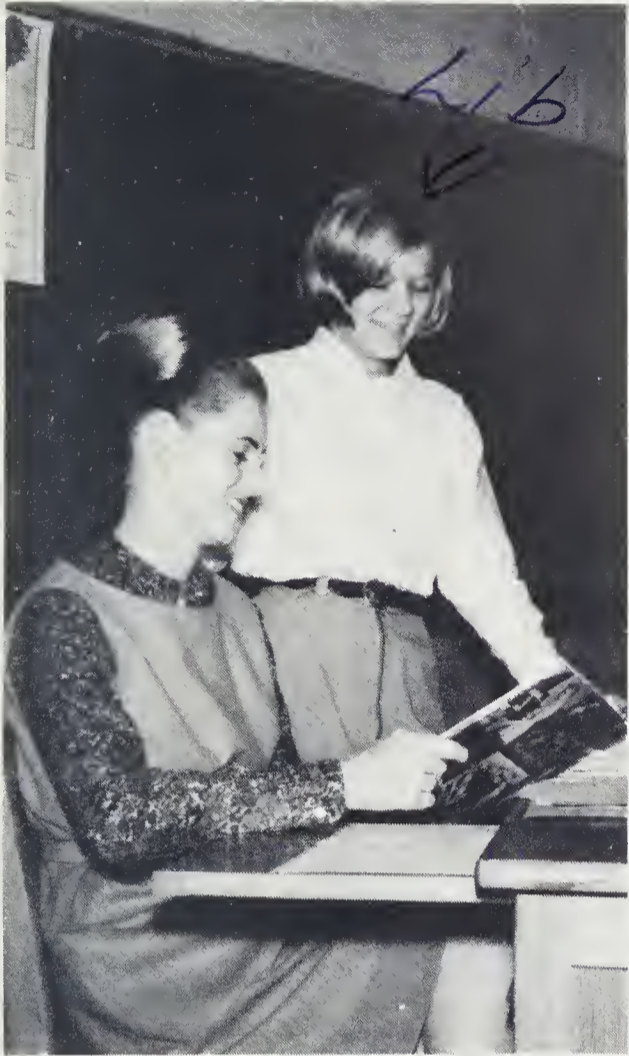

New students, new teachers, new . . . things--

Perhaps it is our rapid development itself that prevents us from understanding debuts. This simple action, this group of students, this addition to the school—all represent changes; and changes mark beginnings.

all these mark beginnings, debuts

Surely we are prone to overlook the debuts of others. A new faculty member, a student new to the school, two young apprentices set on becoming teachers—each is making a debut, a first appearance.

The Dragonian tells of debuts that we cherish most

Most of us appreciate change for the better: We thrive in the spirit of improvement, the excitement of dynamic development, the challenge of reform. These juniors must outdo the seniors who will witness their debut; this committee aims to do old things better and new things well.

Notice them . . .

and remember

Look for debuts: Seek to notice, to be aware of, to understand, to appreciate. Social growth, development of loyalty, learning activity—notice, understand, appreciate these beginnings. But never forget the satisfaction that comes from resting after a day well lived, and strive to find even more grace in completion than in beginning.

ADMINISTRATION AND

FACULTY

Very few students fully realize the importance of our administration and faculty. The tasks which these people perform day after day are of the utmost importance to the students. They are preparing us for the time when we must leave the familiar and face the unknown. The courses of study offered by a school are the controlling factor in the kind of education that a school offers. The curriculum is the medium through which students and faculty reach a mutual understanding and agreement. It is the means by which we train ourselves for a future and whatever vocation we choose. Parents are linked with faculty by means of the Parent-Teachers' Association, of which Mr. LeRoy Self has so ably served as president this year. If we co-operate with the faculty, administration, and our parents, we shall be capable of facing the future with pride, assurance, and a good background.

The library is our center of knowledge

The library is the center of a student's academic activities. For help in any subject, a student finds himself going to the library. Mrs. Dorothy Yates and all the assistants are there ready and willing to answer any questions that may arise. Besides answering students' questions, the librarians do anything from keeping the desk to cleaning the book shelves. Along with keeping the library in order, Mrs. Yates works many long, hard hours to see that the library is in the best possible condition for the students.

No gift is more precious than good advice.

Erasmus

Our guidance counselor, Mrs. Mary Shotts, has worked many hours talking to the Seniors about college plans, helping the underclassmen work out problems, and always showing a kind word and smile. We, the students, really appreciate all she has done for us and all that she will continue to do.

Music hath charms to sooth the savage breast.

Congreve

The three music teachers devote their hours to musical training. Miss Yow is the band and chorus director for the entire county. Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Starnes instruct many piano students at the three Pittsboro Schools, and each puts on a recital in the spring.

Language is the framework of all knowledge

Look who is using the card catalogue, our faithful English teachers.

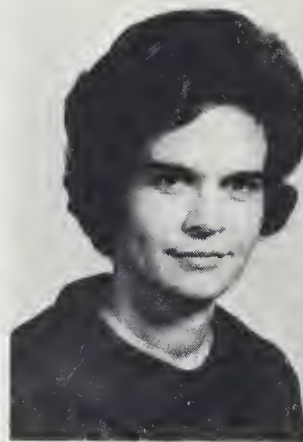

English is undoubtedly the most important part of the school's curriculum. The student must be able to understand what he reads and to explain what he knows, if he is to succeed in our educational system. Accordingly, emphasis in English is placed on grammar, vocabulary and spelling, and reading comprehension. College-bound seniors may elect a course in creative writing, while seniors taking commercial courses may substitute Business English for English IV.

Lab sessions, dialogues, and occasional projects complement grammar study in the French Department. With recently appropriated federal funds, the school has purchased a simple language laboratory, new French tapes, and additional supplementary books. Already considered best in the county, our French Department has expanded its curriculum to include freshmen in French I. In 1968, French IV will be offered. Mrs. Kidd and eleven students are planning to study at the University of Poitiers in La Rochelle, France, this summer.

Relation between subjects is provided by Science and Math

The New Math has wrought changes in curricula throughout the United States, and the math department of our school has altered its courses accordingly. Although set notation, Venn diagraming, and number bases are still considered supplementary, their application is being taught in more advanced courses. The foundation for learning, however, is classical mathematics. College-preparatory courses include three years of algebra and one year of geometry. Business math and general math are courses for less advanced students. Only English is more important than the science of numbers. Not only is mathematics one of the keys to successful business, but it is also the rock on which the other sciences are built.

Mrs. Greene and Mrs. Johnston try to impress on students how important mathematics is to their careers.

Mrs. Wadsworth and Miss Scott prepare for their lab classes.

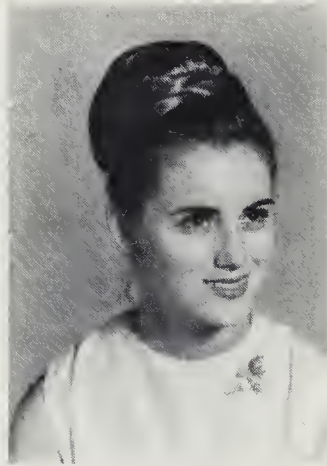

With the addition of one teacher to the department, the expansion of laboratory facilities, and the adoption of a new series of textbooks, instruction in the sciences has become more meaningful. "Physical science" has replaced the more elementary "general science" course. Chemistry and physics students conduct lab experiments more frequently than in past years. A new approach to biology was taken, with more emphasis on basic biological processes. Advances in the science department reflect the added concern of our country for technological excellence.

Social Studies is an appreciation of the past and a guide to the future

Leading the student to understand democratic government is the primary concern of the social studies department. Civics, American democracy, and United States history give the student a broad, general knowledge of the American political system. Both U. S. history and world history are television courses that cover a large amount of information during the year. Parallel reading and individual research are advised for these accelerated courses. An economics and sociology course is offered to seniors, and a geography course has been added to this year's curriculum.

Mrs. Eskridge, Mr. Allred, Mr. Brooks, and Mr. Kitzmiller learn interesting historical facts from each other.

Learn to do,

Nutrition, sewing, budgeting—these are a few of the "basics" taught in home economics. Almost every girl elects at least one course in the department's curriculum. In providing a truly liberal education for the young woman, Mrs. Horton includes instruction in poise, beauty, and etiquette. Added to this year's curriculum, the course in family living hopes to benefit both boys and girls in future years.

do to learn, and look toward new horizons

The two new Ag. teachers explore the workshop.

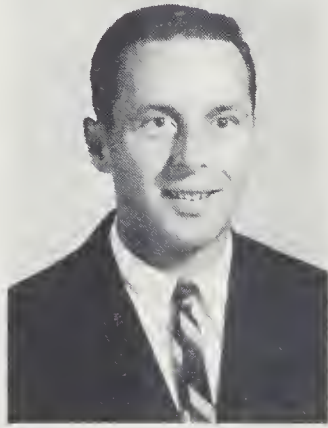

The agriculture department, expanded to include two teachers instead of one, educates a large percentage of our young men in farming techniques and shop work. The high quality of the department's training is attested by the many awards that students have won over the past years in county, district, and state competition.

Preparation for the immediate future

The student planning for a business career is offered two years of typing, two years of shorthand, and one year of office practice. On November 19, office practice and shorthand students visited U. N. C. - C. H. They were shown UNIVAC-1105, duplication techniques, and a secretary's office. Typing is important to college-bound students, too; and many elect Typing I.

Films add much to the D. E. program.

Distributive Education debuted this year under the leadership of Jack Shaner. Being a new course, D. E. deals mainly this year with marketing, designed to introduce a student to field goods and services and to the part that he or she can play upon graduation. It gives a student background in buying and selling, and includes speakers from the business communities and field trips to various businesses in all fields of distribution. It is hoped that this course will fill the great need in the business world today for adequately trained people in such areas as sales personnel, stock clerks, and other employees necessary in business. In the future, part time employment in local businesses may be secured for each of the students taking second year marketing. At present, the program is set up for classroom work only.

To give of one's self in service

Many tasks go unnoticed and many people go unthanked for their services rendered to Pittsboro School. Among these are the janitors and the elementary and the primary lunchroom staffs. The janitors, who keep our school clean and warm, and the lunchroom staffs, who serve us nutritious food, aid us greatly; for without their services our school could not function properly.

Manley Cheek and Sol Milliken compose the maintenance staff of Pittsboro School.

The elementary lunchroom staff consists of Juanita Milliken, Ethel Mae Milliken, Mabel Brooks, Flora Scurlock, Nettie Marsh, Mrs. Hazel Farrell, and Mrs. Prate Johnson.

Although the academic curriculum is generally considered to be the main part of school life, extra curricular activities are becoming increasingly important to high school students. Club work offers a chance to cultivate interest and student participation, as well as leadership and the ability to work with others. P.H.S. has succeeded in making extra curricular activities a vital and useful phase of school life.

BOB WACHS
President

The challenges facing the Council—like those that face the entire school—are great. The Student Council, though by nature not a school government, is the body elected by the students to promote the welfare of the pupil.

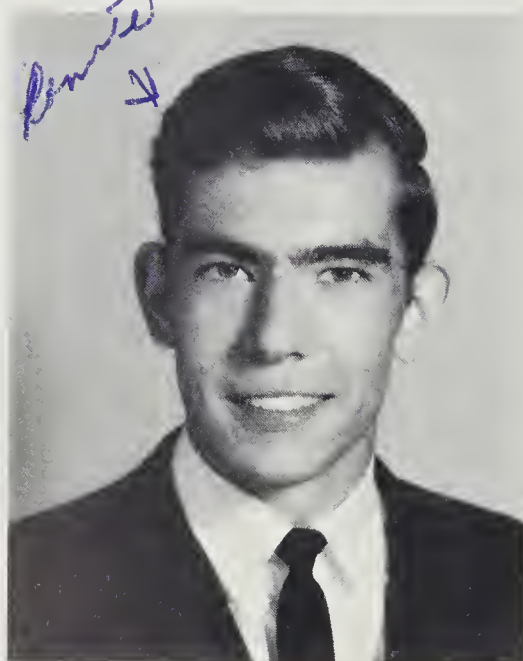

The Council represents scholarship, leadership, character, and honesty. Serious matters are oftendiscussed at Council meetings. On the other hand, a meeting is usually pervaded by a friendliness and humor that only the young at heart are able to show.

On October 13, Student Council members journeyed to Mrs. Shotts's home for the monthly meeting which was followed by supper.

Mrs. Kidd watches over us as we prepare the '66 Dragonian.

Many hours of hard work have gone into planning and assembling our 1966 Dragonian. There have been times when we thought things were impossible and have wondered whether we would meet our deadline. We have had the job of keeping the theme and the dedication a secret, of writing copy, taking pictures, laying out the annual, and walking the streets for ads. Although there have been many disagreeable moments, the yearbook staff hopes that each individual will consider this 1966 Dragonian the best ever.

The Dragon News now

For the first time, the Dragon News Staff consists of members from the entire high school. With the help of Mrs. Baxter Riggsbee, conscientious editors, proofreaders, typists, printers, and business manager publish monthly a school paper that the student body reads and enjoys. "Sound Off" and "What If?" are new articles anticipated by the student body. As in past years, the Christmas and spring editions are published in Siler City. From many viewpoints, the Dragon News of 1965-'66 appears to be a thriving little newspaper.

The Pittsboro High Little Theatre has grown to important significance in our school. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Sam W. White, the club has grown in membership to 65. Its productions of various plays throughout the year give students a chance to exercise their talents in the field of dramatics. A Womanless Wedding, its first production for 1965 in conjunction with the Key Club, was a huge success. Other productions are scheduled during the year beginning with a mystery entitled, Murder Takes the Stage. Sincere interest, devotion, and long hours of practice have contributed to making the Little Theatre both successful and an important asset to our school.

Librarians form a club

Organized just this year, the Library Club wasted no time in becoming an active part of our school. Along with the regular officers, there are special committees assigned different tasks. The Handbook Committee organized the first handbook for librarians that P. H. S. has ever had. From attending district meetings to partying at Christmas, the Library Club is well on its way to being one of the most active clubs in school.

Library assistants help our school by doing everything from filing cards to putting up books.

Les Amis de la France is composed of the third year French students. Its main purpose is to enlighten students about France in areas other than grammar and oral French. This year the students have studied the lives of French composers such as Claude Debussy, Bizet, and Maurice Ravel, made an excursion to Greensboro to view "L'Annonce faite à Marie," and highlighted the year with French Day, a day set aside for the students to wear various costumes of French Provinces.

Irma Senkiw, Secretary; Valinda Thomas, President; Betty Jean Griffin, Reporter; Bonnie Tysor, Treasurer; Shirley Hill, Parliamentarian; and Nancy Foushee, Vice-President, surround their newly elected F.H.A. Sweetheart, Charles Lutterloh.

Many opportunities are available to the girls who take Home Economics. One of these is the organization of the Future Homemakers of America. The meetings of the F.H.A. are held the first Friday of every month in the home economics classes. All four classes join together to form the entire organization. An overall council meets outside of school to coordinate and conduct the club's business. Members travel to district and state meetings along with working to improve our school. Christmas decorations have become an annual contribution from the F.H.A. For the first year, the Future Homemakers elected a sweetheart. The only qualifications required were that he be nice-looking and be a well-rounded and deserving individual. All in all, many useful learnings come to the girls through the F.H.A.

Two new sponsors head Future Farmers

The major activities of the Future Farmers of America center around our modern agriculture which includes all subjects related to agriculture. The boys take part in various contests such as soil judging, ritual parliamentary procedure, dairy-livestock, tool identification, and public speaking. Personal recognition comes through accomplishment in the four degrees in F.F.A. work: Green Hand, Chapter Farmers, State Farmers, and American Farmers. Highlights of the year are having the Father-Son Banquet and sending delegates to the State F.F.A. Convention held at Raleigh, North Carolina.

Neither rain nor heat deters trusty servants from duty

These twenty-six chauffeurs of our buses see that the school is supplied with students. Despite all the noise and trouble they have with kids on the buses, these brave drivers accept the responsibility of taking care of students going to and from school. They hold many lives in their hands five days a week, thirty-six weeks a year.

Research, research. When do we debate?

The Debate Club, advised by Sam White, is in one of its most active years. This year's topic, labor and management relations, is an important one to our society. Our topic has required many hours of tireless research and has proved most rewarding. As a member of the North Carolina Debating Union, our club participated in a round of debates in March.

Key Club serves community

The Key Club, a service organization, has meant much to the school and community since its formation in the summer of 1964. Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, the Key Club performs many worthwhile projects for the community and school. Throughout the year many money raising projects are carried out by the members, such as their participation in the play entitled A Womanless Wedding, which was a huge success. These funds are used to sponsor its activities during the year. Our Key Club is and certainly has proved itself a credit to both the school and community.

The Student Directories, prepared by the Key Club, have proved very helpful to our students.

The History Club is larger this year than ever before. Its members are avid history lovers and are looking forward to learning more of our local history. With Mr. Brooks as the advisor, the club is sure to learn some of the interesting facts about history that aren't recorded in history books.

Even though the Art Club had a late start, its members joined together enthusiastically to form a very active organization. Guest speakers and planned lessons are main activities of the club. The Art Club provides an outlet for talent to students at Pittsboro High. Many rewarding experiences occur at the meetings.

HONORS

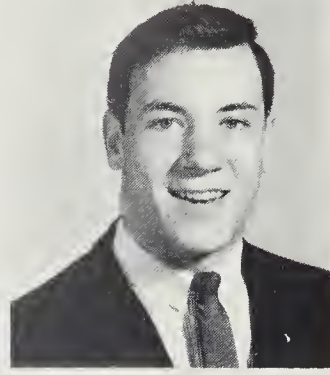

In the honor section, we present those students whose excellence in various areas has set them apart. These individuals have become ideals to the rest of the student body. The students presented here should be proud and feel honored, but they should never forget the responsibility that is theirs. They must continue to prove themselves worthy of these positions, now and after they leave school.

Betas exemplify excellence of performance

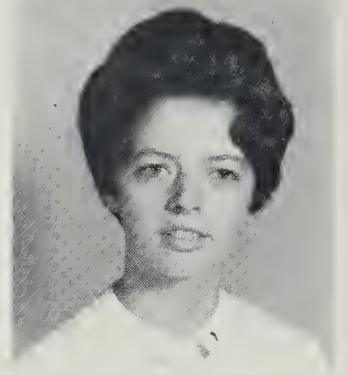

Twenty-four students have the honor of being members of the Beta Club. These students have shown outstanding qualities in their work, character, and ability to lead. The highlight of the two years in the Beta Club is the annual trip to Raleigh or Asheville. To the senior members who journeyed to Asheville last year goes the welcomed responsibility of showing the juniors the town of Asheville this year, since the convention has been scheduled there again. Although this highlight sounds like all fun, there is much preceding work to accomplish this goal.

These treasured honors are announced in May Marshals, the top academic achievers, served as ushers at baccalaureate and commencement services for the class of '65. The marshals hold dear the memory of Mrs. Johnston's hatpins, a blue "1966", and marching to "Pomp and Circumstance."

Martha Neal, Martha Gunter, Donna Harris; Margaret McAllister, Linda Stoudenmire traveled to Girls' State.

Girls' and Boys' Staters, chosen for scholarship and character, devoted the week of June 6-12 to the study of American government. The American Legion sponsored Boys' State at Wake Forest College; and the Legion Auxiliary, Girls' State at U.N.C. -G. Guest speakers, an oratory contest, a newspaper, basketball and swimming, party conventions ... these things our Staters remember.

David Morris, Joe Thompson, and Tim Hogan represented us at Boys' State.

Lovely brunette crowned in September

On Tuesday night, September 14, thirteen of our school's most beautiful girls participated in the annual Miss P.H.S. contest. They paraded for the audience in suits and evening dresses. Patsy White, Jenny Morrison, Betty Sue Boone, Wilma Clark, Gail Parks, and Jean Sanders were the six finalists. Patsy White was chosen as the new Miss P.H.S. with Jenny Morrison as first runner-up. Miss Lee County, Merle Haithcox, presented Patsy with a dozen red roses; and Miss P.H.S. of 1964, Frances White, crowned the new Miss P.H.S. We are all honored to have Patsy as Miss P.H.S. of 1965.

New girl wins hearts of football players

This year a "new girl in town" stole our hearts. Sharon Farrell was elected by the football players as the 1965 Homecoming Queen. She was crowned by Carlene Meacham, last year's queen. Sharon was chosen from a field of eight beautiful girls. She has a wonderful personality, and we are all happy to have her as our Homecoming Queen.

ATHLET

ICS

Athletics, as well as activities and curriculum, play an important role in our high school. Sports represent accomplishment for which the body must have extensive training. Athletics demand a combination of physical skill and strength, an alert mind, enthusiasm, purpose, and teamwork. We take great pride in our Pittsboro athletes because they exhibit all these qualities in abundance. Even more important, however, is the attitude with which they play the game; they play hard in order to win, but they respect their opponents and accept defeat gracefully.

Despite injuries and loss of valuable lettermen,

Mr. Allred holds the football while Mr. Shaner prepares for the kick. Our faithful coaches put a "kick" in our unfavored team. They gave the boys the incentive that pulled them through a 5-5 season.

P.H.S.'s football season started rather slowly, but the Dragons showed their determination and spirit by passing a 5-5 overall season record. This was sighted as a year for rebuilding, after losing nine lettermen through graduation last year. However, our team was rebuilt and has shown many exhibitions of fine football. The record of 4-4 in conference play tied us for fourth place. Next year's team promises to be "conference championship material" with fifteen lettermen returning, the greatest number in recent years, to don P.H.S.'s colors. As our season has ended, we say good luck to next year's boys lost through graduation, knowing they have many wonderful memories of their days at P.H.S. spent on the grid-iron.

Individual abilities combine

P.H.S. vs. COATS

The rainy atmosphere of September 14 didn't cool the fiery breaths of the Dragons as P.H.S. won its first game of the season 14-6. P.H.S.'s first touchdown came on a bomb throw from Horton to Campbell covering 72 yards; the P.A.T. was added by Stone. The third quarter saw Stone galloping 68 yards through Coat's line for P.H.S.'s second touchdown with Horton adding the P.A.T.

P.H.S. vs. CHATHAM CENTRAL

P.H.S.'s Homecoming Game on October 1 proved to be a very exciting one for the Dragon's fans as P.H.S. defeated a favored Chatham Central team 26-13. The Bears found the high-spirited Dragons too much to cope with as Central lost its first game of the season. Stone scored twice and added one P.A.T. on a run of two yards, and was on the receiving end of a 78 yard pass from Horton. J. Tilley scored on a 34 yard run, and Horton rounded out the scoring on a 79 yard punt return.

P.H.S. vs. LILLINGTON

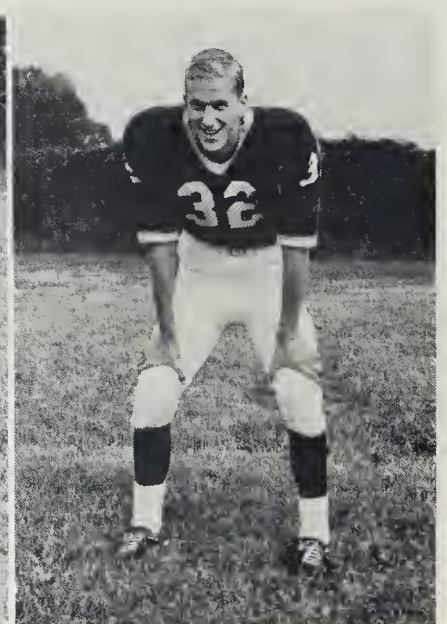

Luck was not with P.H.S. on September 3 as the Dragons dropped their opener 28-6. Lillington's superb defense yielded only one touchdown to the Dragons as Jimmy Tilley scored on a 12-yard run in the fourth quarter.

P.H.S. vs. BOONE TRAIL

P.H.S.'s second game on September 10 also ended in a defeat 36-7. Boone Trail's tremendous offense proved too much for the Dragons. P.H.S.'s only score was contributed by Jimmy Tilley on a 1-yard plunge after he intercepted a Boone Trail pass on the Dragon 18-yard line and returned it a total of 81 yards. Ray Stone added the P.A.T.

P.H.S. vs. MAXTON

On September 17, P.H.S. found the going extremely rough as they lost 38-0 to Maxton. Although the fans were disappointed at our Dragons' performance, the substitutes were able to gain valuable experience throughout the second half.

to form a successful team

P.H.S. vs. RAMSEUR

On October 8, P.H.S. built up a 13-0 halftime lead with Stone scoring on a 21-yard run: the P.A.T. failed. The Dragons' second touchdown was scored by J. Tilley on a 6-yard run with Stone adding the point after. Ramsey made a strong comeback the second half and scored 14 points, upsetting the Dragons 14-13.

P.H.S. vs. GREENWOOD

P.H.S. shined on October 15 in offensive ability as the Dragons outscored Greenwood 32-26, in an offensive battle. P.H.S.'s offensive punch was provided by Horton passing to Pendergraft, C. Tilley, and Campbell for 14, 40, and 20 yards respectively. C. Tilley also scored on an 11-yard run, and J. Tilley added two P.A.T.'s, giving P.H.S. its total of 32 points.

P.H.S. vs. ANGIER

On October 22, P.H.S. once again showed its offensive power as the Dragons defeated the Bulldogs 27-7. Angier's defense was unable to contain the fiery Dragons as Parker and C. Tilley ran for touchdowns of 10 and 40 yards respectively. The Horton-Campbell combination accounted for two touchdowns covering 66 and 67 yards. Stone contributed three P.A.T.'s.

P.H.S. vs. LIBERTY

P.H.S. took the field on October 29 and showed it meant business as Horton passed to Campbell for a 62-yard pass-run touchdown on the first play from scrimmage. This was the first touchdown scored on Liberty in conference play, and the Bulldogs showed their disapproval as they went on to out-score the Dragons 32-6.

P.H.S. vs. RAMSEUR

On November 5, P.H.S. showed its comeback ability in its last game to beat Ramsey in their second meeting of the season by a score of 20-7. The Dragons played superb football and combined their offense and defense beautifully. Scoring for the Dragons was Stone on two touchdown runs of 20 and 69 yards, Horton on a sweep of 18 yards. J. Tilley and Stone each added a P.A.T. to round out the scoring.

J. V. Football provides experience for underclassmen

Joe pleads during time-out, "Let's go, gang!"

P.H.S.'s first year of Junior Varsity football proved to be a very successful one, recording an undefeated season under the capable leadership of its coach, David Kitzmiller. Playing a schedule of five games, our J.V.'s were unscored upon all season, defeating other J.V. teams handily. First to fall victim was Ramseur by a score of 44-0; Chatham Central fell twice to our J.V.'s by scores of 28-0 and 20-0. Wins were also recorded over Liberty and Ramseur.

Our team deserves much credit and respect for its excellent season, showing us that our future varsity is in good hands.

and then victory''.

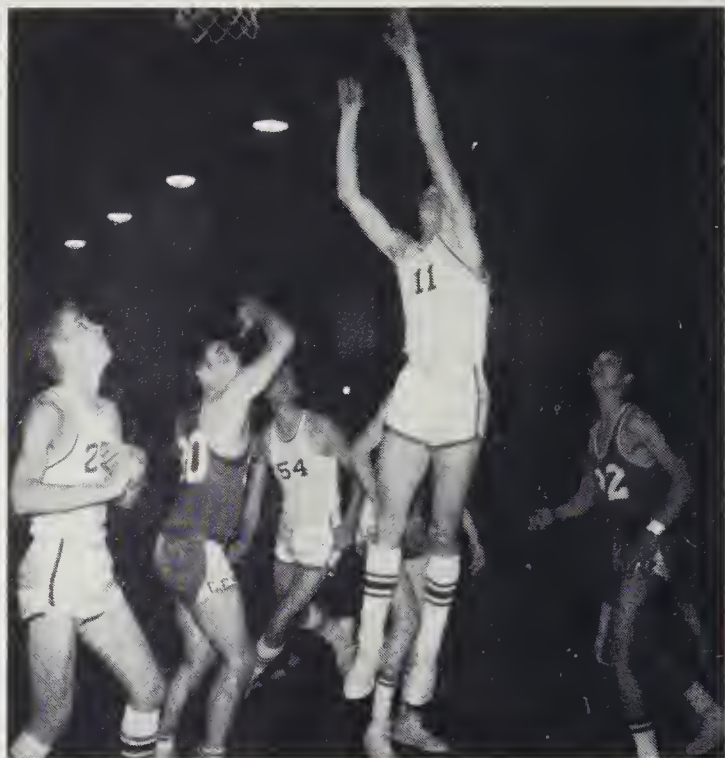

With high hopes and ambitions, the Varsity girls began the 1965-66 season. Starting off strongly, they bowed to Apex with a narrow score of 25-21. Although they lost the next two games, one by another close score, the Dragonettes pulled through to win their first game of the year by downing Deep River 40-32. Continuing to play their best, they won their second game over Deep River by a score of 31-17. With future games to play, the Dragonettes are more determined than ever.

Under the coachmanship of Jack Shaner, the Dragonettes have improved their playing ability tremendously. With several new players, some transferred from Moncure High School, the team played to the best of their ability. Four Dragonettes will graduate this year, leaving the remaining team in hope of a bright season next year.

The Varsity boys; the captain, Worth Holleman; and the coach, Adrian Allred, strive to plan a winning move for the Pittsboro Dragons.

Worth Holleman comes through with another lay-up, thus adding two points to P.H.S.'s score.

A blend of speed and timing, a blur of motion,

With sore muscles from long hours of hard practice, the Pittsboro High Varsity boys began the 1965-66 basketball year with anticipation of a winning season. The loss of valuable lettermen last year did not seem to bother the spirit of the team. The Pittsboro Dragons remained undefeated until they reckoned with the Chatham Central Bears.

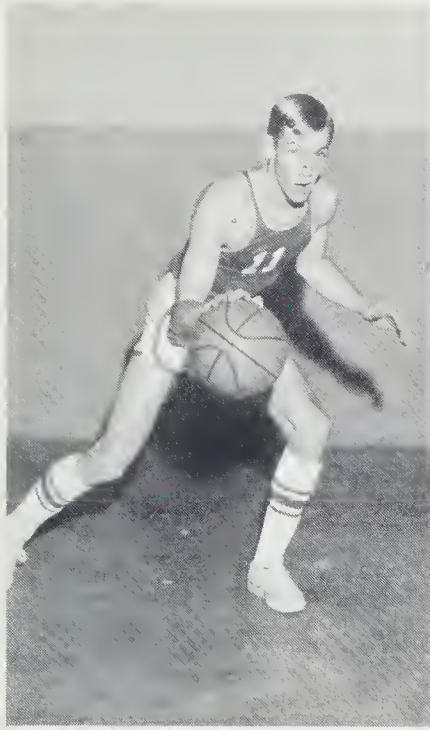

The first game, with Apex, was won by a score of

Gerald Thomas, Ray Stone, Ronald Horton, Frankie Pendergraft, Colby Tilley, Worth Holleman, captain; Bill Farrell, Scott Whitaker, Jimmy Tilley, Doug Gunter, 39-30. Greenwood was downed next with a count of 71-34. Another game with the fired-up Apex team let the Dragons barely escape with a 52-51 victory. The Dragons made its two conference wins in a row as they whipped Deep River's Demonless Demons rather handily by a 77-52 count. Other exciting games were played with the Dragons winning many of them. P.H.S. closed with a very satisfactory season.

Coach Adrian Allred has played a major role in the fine season that the Dragons have enjoyed. He has worked unceasingly to build and improve the team. Backed by school spirit, the Dragons experienced a very good season. Ability and luck, along with the three new Moncure players, spun the team to many victories. Although four members of the team will graduate this year, the other Dragons look forward to an exciting season next year.

"Renny, I certainly hope Coach Shaner doesn't become upset when I destroy the grass with my burning speed."

As the middle of March rolled around at P.H.S., many hopeful and inexperienced boys came out on the first day to try out for positions on the track and field team. After many hours of strenuous practice, the team was confronted with its first track meet. The first meet was held on the Pittsboro track field. Our opponent was everyone's common foe, the Siler City Blue Phantoms. Although our boys gave a tremendous effort, the Phantoms showed more strength in more events than P.H.S.; therefore, dealing the Dragons their first loss. Later in the spring, Pittsboro's second meet took place. This time the Blue Dragons traveled to Angier, N.C., to take on the Angier Bulldogs. Once again the Dragons showed a great desire to take their first victory of the season. Every event was close down to the final wire, but the final tally showed P.H.S. running second to Angier. The third and final meet was held at Siler City. The Siler City Blue Phantoms were the host team to a four team meet. Present at this meet were Pittsboro, Siler City, Wadesboro, and East Montgomery. Knowing this was the final meet of the season, P.H.S. fought a valiant fight in hopes of upsetting the other three schools. In the final tabulation, P.H.S. found that it had secured the lowly fourth place position. There was one bright consolation even though the Blue Dragons suffered their third straight defeat of the season. Five points provided the margin between Pittsboro and the winner, Siler City. Although P.H.S. suffered three defeats in as many track and field meets, the Blue Men of P.H.S. gained valuable experience and training for the next track season.

"Jimmy, I feel lucky today because I see a four leaf clover in front of my right big toe."

"Joe, I'd gladly give up my Moose Showron bat if we could only have a bench instead of this light pole."

The 1965 Baseball Team was one long to be remembered. Ability, experience, and the willingness to win enabled the team to wind up their season as conference champions. They were the runners-up in the exciting conference tournament, and to top it all, defeated a team in the District Play-offs. Even though several players graduated last spring, chances look hopeful for another winning team this year.

"I tell you, Ronald Wilson Horton, you can just leave this field if you don't like my spitballs."

At right, Ronnie winds up to deliver a smashing blow to the windshield of a '61 Falcon; while at left, "Let's see, Coach Shaner said to throw a grounder to all nine players but I see only eight."

Nine girls cheer our athletes to victory

"Victory! Victory! is our cry!" shout our faithful cheerleaders.

Our pompom girls do their daily exercises while cheering our team to victory.

Our nine cheerleaders are a vital part of our student body because they lead us in school spirit. Their enthusiasm at pep rallies and games helps to boost our teams to victory.

Lettermen, including cheerleaders; football, basketball, baseball, and track players; and managers make up the Monogram Club. This well deserved honor is evidence of hard work and labor.

Where do they get all of that energy?

HIGH SCHOOL

HOOOL

The four years that a student spends in high school are usually considered to be the best years of his life. This period of time is characterized by several conditions. The student's social life becomes more important and takes more of his time; he makes new friends and meets new people; and he "belongs" to a certain group and to the student body.

However, high school is more than a place for social activities, for meeting people, and for "belonging." High school prepares a student for the future and the life which he will lead after graduation. During these years, a student becomes aware of his potential and his responsibilities, and decides what he will become when he leaves his familiar high school life and takes his place in a strange, new world.

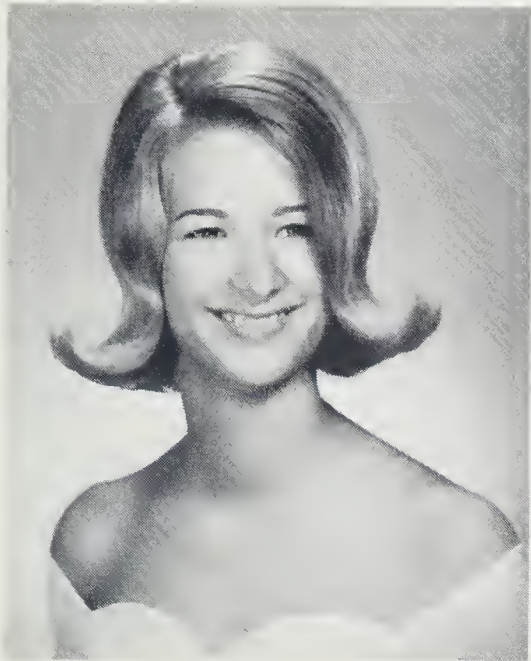

In Memoriam of
Marvin Wayne Eubanks
(1948-1965)

Marvin accepted everything life had to offer and gave as much in return. He brought joy to the hearts of many. Always smiling, he enjoyed life in its simplest forms. Things did not have to be complicated and fancy. In fact, he preferred them not to be. Marvin lived a full rich life for the sixteen years given him. His seat in school has been filled, but the places he held in our hearts will always be empty. Marvin was a son, a brother, and a friend to be proud of and remembered forever.

Juniors

The Junior class started this year with a very successful magazine campaign. This was only the beginning of many plans for the 1966 Junior-Senior Prom. Along with their study of several complicated subjects, the juniors have fully participated in extracurricular activities. As the members of the Junior class are led toward the final step of high school, they anxiously await the last day of school—the day that brings their treasured class rings which finally identify them as Seniors.

Sophomores

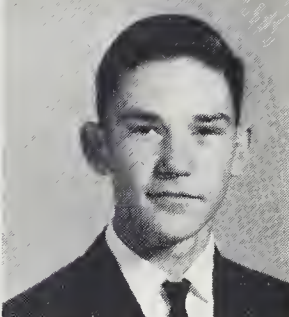

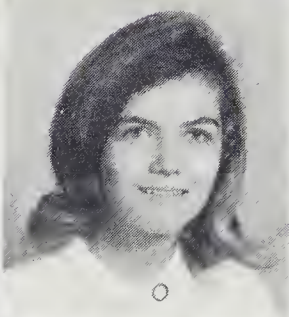

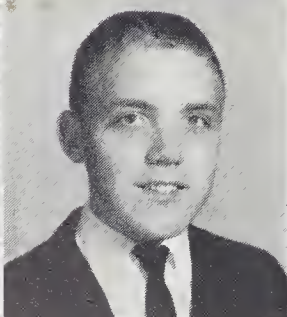

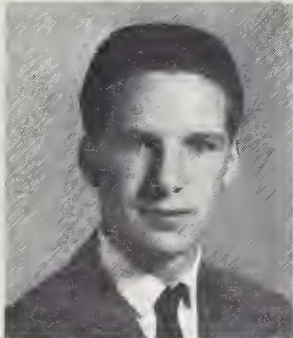

After that confusing first day of not being freshmen, the sophomores settled down to their second year of high school. The "wise fools" of 1965-66 learned the techniques of "operating," that is the cutting up of frogs and worms. With this new technique and the wonderful novel of Silas Marner, the sophomore class should be well prepared for its upcoming junior year.

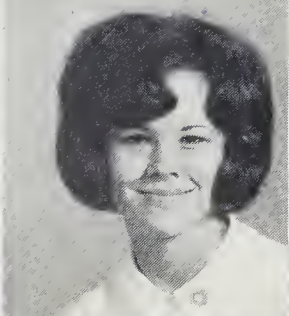

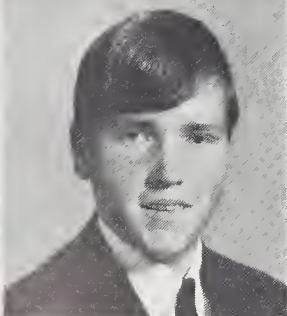

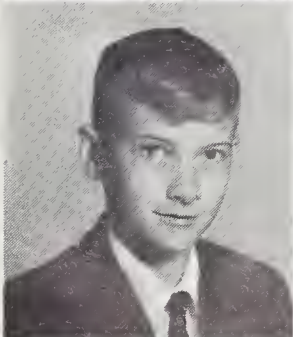

With Ray Stone as President, Keith Roper as Sgt. -at-Arms, Sybil Gardner as Secretary, Scott Whitaker as Treasurer, and Bill Walden as Vice-president, the Sophomore class is bound to accomplish great things.

Freshmen

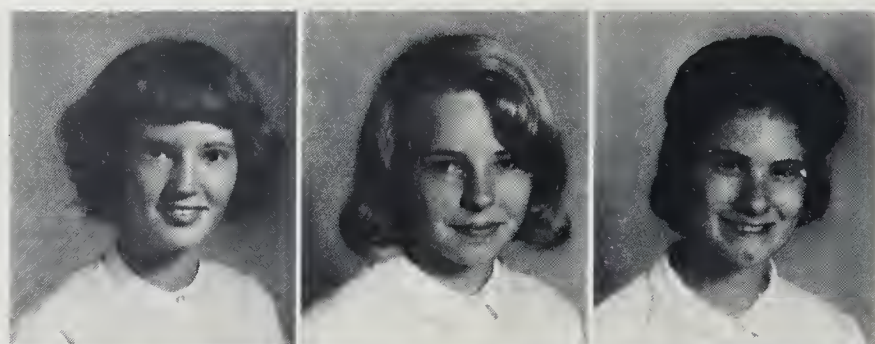

The start of the 1965-66 school year brought the largest addition ever to the Pittsboro High School student body. Immediately, the Freshmen class was charged with the responsibility of learning to respect traditions, shaping themselves into a unified class, and taking the initiative to build that class for the future. Despite being called "green freshmen," they settled into high school life, promising to give a bright future to P.H.S.

Mike McAllister, Treasurer; James May, Sgt. -at-Arms; Paul Cash, Vice-President; Mike Harward, President; and Libby Jones, Secretary, provide the leadership needed to guide the Freshmen.

ELEMENT

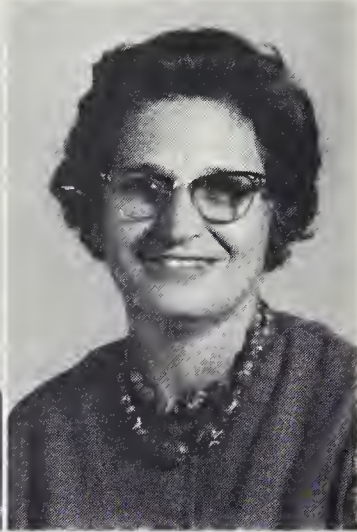

ARY

The education that a pupil acquires in an elementary school does not simply compose the framework for his high school and college work. The knowledge he gains in grades one through eight will prove to be the basis of all that he does throughout his entire life. The discipline he receives, the habits he forms, the knowledge he acquires, and the ideals that he accepts will remain with him for the rest of his life.

The third graders are now becoming aware of our need for science in this modern world.

Two of the eighth graders find time to feed and play with the hamsters in Mrs. Jackson's room.

Elementary Activities

That favorite of favorites, Mrs. May, our ice cream lady, is always there ready to delight us with those sweet "goodies."

These girls are having fun as well as keeping their bodies in good physical condition.

Our future "horticulturists" try their hands at planting a small tree in a paper cup.

ADVERTISE

MENTS

Without the support of our merchants and businessmen, the publication of the Dragonian would be nearly impossible. Most of our merchants are very co-operative and generous when the time comes for the selling of advertisements. We of the annual staff would like to express our sincere thanks and gratitude to all those whose support made the publication of our yearbook a reality, and not simply a possibility.

One conclusion but two debuts

As this school year draws to a close, the 1966 Dragonian becomes a reality! All the problems of its production are just a memory—fatiguing days of ad selling, embarrassment of scheduling pictures again and again, long after-school hours of writing and rewriting copy, copy, and more copy, monotonous click of the typewriter, tedious task of proofreading, and above all, little disagreements among staff members. It hasn't been all work: the common goal of everyone has been reached—the best Dragonian ever.

The realization of this book could not have been possible without the guidance and understanding of our advisor, Mrs. Louise Kidd. The yearbook staff is greatly indebted to her and to everyone else for their patience during our many afternoon and night sessions. To us on the staff, this book is more than just another yearbook. It represents hard work, hectic days and nights, and happy moments. During the last days before the final deadline, it was a way of life. This is the end of the work of the staff of '66; it is merely the beginning of the staff of '67.

Pittsboro High says goodbye to one class and hello to another. All the thoughts, feelings, failures, and triumphs of both faculty and students fade into memories as one year ends and another approaches. The 1966 Dragonian Staff says goodbye to their year and hello to a new one—leaving to it and the new staff all the problems and heart-felt moments of producing a yearbook. The year has been too short and yet too long...

Peg,
 This year it seems as if I have gotten to know you better than in the past. You are a great friend. You deserve everything in life. I hope things between you & Micky work out.
 Good luck to a good kid. Love ya!
 Cathy B.

Dear Peg,
 We've had some wild times, n'est-ce pas? Some, I would like to forget. Maybe if we keep trying, someday things will work out.
 (What do I mean?)

I'll miss you this ^{summer} while you are in France. If your leg holds out, you'll probably have a great time with all those French fellows. I hear they are great lovers!! Micky will like that. Ha!!

Lots of luck -
 Why did you ~~cut~~ ^{cut} the hedge?
 Be sweet - and careful.
 Love,
 Lane
 You're a great driver.
 Maybe someday you can get farther than just up and down that hill!!

Peg
 It's been great living in all your classes? I hope & all that good stuff. Say your going to have your show this summer. Lucky!!
 Friend
 Lane

Little Blond,

Next year it will be my distinct pleasure not to be here, but guess who will be here? YOU! HA! ^{HA!} Just kidding!

Much luck in the future and past(?) to a very cute & sweetie female. Keep "Pumper" straight, OK?

Love,
Joe

Peggy,

I have enjoyed being in your classes this year and in years past. Best of luck through high school and forever.
a friend,
Carol Harwood

"Peggy"
Peggy,

I don't know how to tell you how much your friendship has meant to me this year. You're the true friend everyone, at sometime or another, dreams of having. You are a very attractive person. I hope, when you go to France, you won't fall for some French "lover" and forget Mickey!! (I though I'm sure you won't). I doesn't seem that you, Elaine, and I can make plans very good. Remember the nights on the activity bus!!! The J.V practices were fun, too! Stay sweet as you are and you will go far in life.

Love ya,
Elaine

P.S. Anytime you want your hair washed, I'll be glad to do it for you!! (Really, whose stomach was that "growling" ????)

Peggy go
I have enjoyed being in your Algebra class first period this summer at the pool, M.Y.F. and other things. Lots of luck + best wishes to you + your future. Love (don't tell Mickey) Eddie Barrington

Peggy (Phie),
I'll see if I can't say within this small space. Well, this has been a hectic first year at P.H.S... basketball games... riding the Dragon Wagon... Health. Rats o' such + best wishes. May God bless you Peg. leg. Love ya! (Peter Pan)

Peggy
Best of luck to you and yourn (Mickey)
God knows you both need each other and I hope things work out as you shall be together as Ron and I are planning. Mickey is a great kid and you are lucky to have him. Have great trust in that guy and you can't lose. No one knows better than ol' mother Hatty -
Good luck in the future and I hope you find complete happiness in life. Love always Hairy (11+1=2)

Peggy,
Best of luck
to a real I have sweet girl I have enjoyed having classes
with you, this year + years past. May you always be as sweet + kind as you are.
Love ya!
Linda B.

Peggy,
Our friendship has been pulled apart some by the many faces of high school but my deep feeling as a friend has not changed. Thanks for trying to comfort me the night of the tournament (but)??
Best of luck to one whose sweetness and beauty will carry her far. May life be joyous to you and yours!! Lots of luck.

Love,
Mike
P.S. Be good in France and remember to write
O.K!

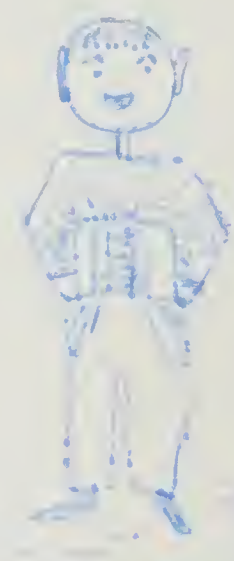

Peggy,
Take care of the school next year, and don't forget me or any of the other screwballs in my class. Keep the boys in line.
Johnny Justice

Best wishes to a nice girl and lots of luck. Hope you will always succeed ~~in~~ (spelled wrong)
life.
Jerry

Peggy,
I've enjoyed
your friendship these five years. We've just celebrated our anniversary. Best of luck!
Jimmy Wilby

I want to start off by telling you that I have thoroughly enjoyed knowing you these past years. I hope that even though you have so many admirers, I won't forget you. Best of luck to you in your future years at PHS.

Shorty

Reg,

Well, our "Green Freshman" year is about over and our "Dumb Sophomore" year coming up. We've really had some great times this year. Especially in Daisy's English class Boy! some of the discussions we've had in there. I've really enjoyed being able to double-date some with you and Mickey. You and him are really lots of fun to go along with.

May God Luck and Best Wishes follow in your footsteps wherever you may go. May God's right hand be abundant to your many wants and pleasures for your sweetness and great personality really deserves it. Be Good and Stay Sweet.
Luck,
Life - Love ya!
Sheela

Peggy Jo,

As I looked through your annual, I see that no one has called you Peggy Jo yet so I thought I would be the first. I have enjoyed getting to know you this year. I hope your freshman year wasn't too rough on you and I hope that you have as much fun as I have, especially this year. I enjoyed the few times we were together - the ballgame at Ramseur, New Year's Eve, and playing ping pong. I hope that maybe sometime there can be more. Behave yourself in France and don't work too hard next year. Bye now,

Bob "Lightning" Wachs

PEGGY JO BLAND,

HOLY ANNUAL! "BATMAN"

"ROBIN"

"Better late than never!"

Peggy Jo,

Things have sure changed since all these people put these words of wisdom in your annual.

In the last few days you have made me happier than I have ever been and I want it to last a long time. Every thing is going to be a lot different from now on and I hope you will like it. Your "second year of school" is going to be different in a lot of ways. I sure hope everything will work right.

With all my love,

Randy

(Pardon the scribbling but your back is shaking)

Peggy,

We sure have had some good times this year, haven't we. At school, the pool and at the store there's been a few laughs and jokes. Next year we'll have even more fun except for the store, because you want be working next door to keep me company when things get ~~lonesome~~ ^(mistake) lonesome. I just don't know what I'll do either.

Peggy you sure are a lucky girl to have Mickey as your boy and he sure is lucky to have you as his girl. Well I'd better stop before I write a whole page, but I want to wish the best of luck in the future to a real cute, sweet girl with lots of personality which I'm sure take you far in this wide world.

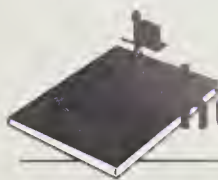

Love

George Justice

Peg,

Well a lot of water has gone under the bridge and a few things have happened since the last time I wrote in your annual. We are about to finish another year (the first for you) at P.H.S. and somehow we were able to take the bad along with the good, although at times it seemed that things just wouldn't work out no matter how hard we tried. But things haven't been all bad. Gosh see no! We've had some great times, (at least I have.) and the main reason was because you were a part of those times. (Can't you imagine what it would have been like all those times we went off and you were not there!?) Seriously though Peg, I hope I haven't been too much of a bore and that you have had as much fun as I have. (With you of course) I know I did things that might seem bad to you and would have made anyone mad, but honestly all those things that happened were really nothing. But I realize how you must have felt (you had a right to) and I can assure you that nothing else like that will ever happen on my half of the deal again.

Time flies doesn't it? It only seems like ~~only~~ yesterday when I first met you. Pittsboro was playing Lillington at Lillington and I saw you for my first time. And the more I saw of you each day the more I liked you. (Oh yeah, we lost the ballgame.) But I don't think I really got to know and understand you until January, 1966. (I'm not sure I completely understand you yet.) Since then you've been that extra special someone in my life. You have kept me going when I was blue and smiling when I was sad. I think I will stop right here because it sounds as if I'm saying ^{God-bye} _(Not right here) instead of wishing you good luck and success _(Not here either). But there is no need in that either because I know that wherever and whenever you go, with a personality like yours, you can't help but to succeed. May God bless you always and may you and yours continue to find happiness in everything that life has to offer for the rest of your life. _(like in room)

ya
yours,

"Mickey"

P.S.

If you ever need any chairs or ping pong tables moved let me know, O.K.?

P.S.S. The Jr. Sr. is yet to come!

I thought I would just write in here to fill up the space. Keep up the good work. (In school that is!)

P.S.S.S. Maybe one of these days, if we keep searching and looking we can find

→ The end that becomes the beginning . . .
